

Established in 1990, Anastasios Mavrogenis S.A. is the authorized distributor of world's leading companies of medical devices and surgical instruments such as Coloplast, Medtronic, Bausch & Lomb, Abbott, Genadyne and Amoena in Greece. In the heart of our values lies our passion to make the difference in people's quality of life. By being closely to the people who use our products – patients as well as specialists and nurses who care for them – we get a better understanding of their needs and challenges and enable us to support them by offering innovative high quality products and services.
